DETAILED ACTION

1. The amendment filed on August 15, 2002 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

3. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Rutkowski et al (the US Patent No. 6,198,442).

The Rutkowski et al reference teaches in the figure 5 an antenna apparatus for receiving or transmitting radio waves at two different frequencies, comprising: a pair of antenna elements 53a,53b having different resonant frequencies, and a pair of phase shift circuits 55a,55b for shifting phase of the radio waves (col. 6, lines 24-31), wherein feed points of the pair of antenna elements are connected to a radio circuit via the pair of phase shift circuits, respectively (see the figure 5). Each antenna is operable to receive or transmit the radio waves at a different frequency (col. 5, lines 7-13). One of the phase shift circuits which are coupled to the one of the antenna elements shifts phase of the radio waves so as to increase an impedance of the one of the antenna elements at the resonance frequency of the other one of the antenna elements (col. 6, lines 11-23). The phase shift circuit comprises a lumped circuit 55a, 55b. The phase shift circuit comprises a distributed constant circuit (col. 6, lines 6-31).

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
